THE GORGEOUS TUBEROUS ROOTED

BEGONIAS

If you have a bush or glass-house, verandah or other shelter for pot plants, you can grow these most delightful plants. They will also thrive well in an outside warm, well sheltered spot, but protection from winds is essential.

The blooms are large and are DOUBLE, CRESTED or FRINGED, the colours comprising almost every delicate shade imaginable in salmon, flesh, lemon, yellow, orange, buff, white, cream, cerise, crimson, scarlet, etc., etc.

The Double, Crested and Fringed types are suitable for pot culture and the BASKET type should be planted in hanging baskets, allowing three or four to each basket. They make uncommon and bright additions to the Bush-house.

The prices are as follows:—

DOUBLE, all to separate color, 1/3 each, 13/- doz.

CRESTED and FRINGED varieties, to separate color, 1/3 each, 13/- doz.; Mixed, 1/- each, 10/- doz.

BASKET or TRAILING varieties, to separate color, 1/6 each, 16/- doz.; Mixed (not to separate color), 1/3 each, 13/- doz.

BEAUTIFUL PRIMULINUS GLADIOLI

This rare species of Gladioli originated in South Africa. The flowers are somewhat hooded, and comprise all colors of beautiful art shades. They grow very tall, are vigorous and long-blooming.

A bed of these graceful hybrids is wonderfully effective, and they are extra good for cutting, as the stems are more delicate.

GLADIOLI

One of the most popular bulbs grown—for gorgeous beauty and brilliance they are unexcelled. The culture is exceedingly simple, and they grow to perfection in any part of Australia. Unlike other bulbs, they like plenty of old cow manure—kept away from the actual bulb when planting. Plant about two inches deep and six inches apart, and carefully stake each flowering stalk to protect from wind.

About six weeks after flowering, when the foliage dies, lift the bulbs, cut off stems, and thoroughly dry the bulbs before storing away in, say, dry sand for three months, and re-plant.

Plant any month in the year. 1/- each, 10/- doz.; or the full set of 50 choice varieties offered here, 35/-. Post free.

NEW JAPANESE IRIS

The magnificent display of Japanese Iris in Hyde Park last season won the admiration of all who saw them flowering.

We claim to have the finest stock in the Commonwealth of the latest novelties, totalling over 100 varieties; the blooms we have continuously shown in our windows and booked orders on an enormous scale; delicate and beautiful shades, including mauve, peach, white, lavender, palest blue tints, etc.; in fact, every colour imaginable. These Iris Plants are very easily grown and flowered, provided they get plenty of water; it is, therefore, best to prepare your beds below the ordinary surface level, which makes a basin, and consequently the water is easily applied. Use plenty of cow manure.

JAPANESE IRIS.—Price 1/6 each; 16/- dozen.

Ordinary older varieties, 1/- each; 11/- dozen. Postage extra.

FLAG IRIS.—We have a magnificent collection of 18 choice varieties, highly recommended; very hardy. 1/- each; 11/- doz. Postage extra.

The Set of 18 for 17/6, post paid.
